LONG BRANCH

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Saturday.—Summer colonists here have been yacht mad since the opening race, on Thursday. Nothing else is talked of, and during the races all places where any information of the contest could be obtained were thronged with enthusiasts.

Picturesque have been the scenes on the ocean front. Bulkheads and pavilions were filled with interested crowds, gay with the many colorful summer time can bring together. On Ocean avenue the scene was no less striking. Equipages of all sorts, automobiles, coaches and a great variety of carriages, filled the thoroughfare, all their occupants intent only on the brief glimpses that were offered occasionally of the tall masts and broad expanses of sail of the racing yachts.

Many residents of the shore saw the races from the decks of their own or friends' yachts. Uzal H. McCarter, of Newark, saw the races from his speedy Sassafras, accompanied by a party, among whom were Attorney General Robert McCarter, of New Jersey; former Senator Thomas N. McCarter, Dr. Leslie D. Ward, Forrest Dryden and Edgar B. Ward.

Mr. W. Campbell Clark, whose cottage is in Elberon, used a yacht belonging to his brother, his own being out of commission. Mr. Clark took a large party with him on each day. Mr. Clark is an enthusiastic yachtsman, formerly interested in boats that competed for the America's cup, and is thoroughly versed in yachting affairs.

Prominent among other yachting parties that went to the cup races were those of John R. Dos Passos and Jacob Field. Mr. Dos Passos made him start from the New York basin, while Mr. Field's yacht started from her moorings at Fort an Peck.

Military affairs will absorb the attention of the summer idlers next week, when the tournament will take place at the house shown grounds, West End. Troops from the National Guard of this State and New York and detachments of regulars will begin to arrive on Thursday, the day previous to the opening of the tournament, and will encamp on the grounds.

The exhibits and sports planned for the show are varied and exciting. Troop C, of Brooklyn, will take part in a game of football on horseback, while an exciting sailing and drill will also be given. All of the assembled troops will be reviewed by Governor Franklin Murphy.

Many distinguished guests will be present at the tournament, including prominent officers in the United States army and State militia.

The auction of boxes for the tournament was held at the West End Hotel this evening. Society turned out in force to compete for choice seats and nearly all the boxes were sold.

One of the leading social affairs of this month, a progressive hearts party, at the Elberon Hotel, was given this evening. The ballroom of the Ocean Casino was converted into a veritable garden for the affair, which was attended by many persons prominent in the social life of that cottage colony. The prizes for the winners were handsome pieces of silverware, all appropriate to the season.

Among those who made the affair successful were Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hauck, Jr.; the Princess Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Field, Colonel and Mrs. M. T. Barrett, Baron and Baroness von Koppen, P. Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. McDermitt, General Vance A. Starbuck, Miss Elaine Starbuck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hirsch, Miss Gray, Mrs. Richardson, William R. Adams, Edwin Field, Miss Florence Field, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dos Passos, Leonard Field, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Erdman, J. B. Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. L. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Arnsperg, Mrs. Monroe R. Rothschild, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Labaree, Dr. and Mrs. C. Frankenthal and Mrs. William Lewis.

Many persons were present at the week's end dance at the Brighton Hotel this evening. The feature of the affair was a special musical programme, which was rendered by the orchestra of the hotel and the dance. The children of the north end were given a dance at the Brighton last night.

A full dress hop was given this evening in the Casino of the Seabright. It was attended by many cottagers and summer residents.

The weekly dance of the Howland House takes place this evening in the dining room of the hotel, which was trimmed with lanterns and flowers.

The Baron and Baroness von Kippen will be among those who will remain at the shore until late in the season. They expect to sail for Germany in the autumn.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Saturday.—Our season has been more brilliant than was anticipated. The heaven of the fashionable element has been more pronounced than in other years, and the ambition of Atlantic City to shine as one of the summer recreation places of the fashionable seems to be nearing accomplishment. Since Stuart Wyeth, of Philadelphia, has suggested the importation of foreign features for improving the resort and is starting a fund to send a committee across the ocean to investigate the charms which make for popularity among the foreign summer resorts, the question of broadening Atlantic City so as to find a secluded place for the new class which is to be invited to take up residence here is actively discussed among the leading spirits.

Socially the week closed has been filled with pleasant incidents, prominent among them being the charity ball in the music hall on the steel pier. Short cruises in yachts and launches aboard the craft have been almost daily occurrences.

Automobiles coming from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Washington, filled with invited parties, arriving during the week included those of F. A. Roth, W. C. Temple, A. C. Turner, E. H. Collins, Alfred McQuay, Alfred Westenhoe, J. E. Wyman, W. W. Cummer, Percy Howard, C. I. Cosby, B. J. Hall, G. W. Fisher, Dr. C. R. Miller, J. H. Nesby, Norman Selby, John T. Turner, Edward S. Faber and John B. Moore.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Walmley, of Philadelphia, are spending a few weeks here. Mrs. Caroline Barons and Miss Elizabeth Barons, of Schenectady, have been joined at Haddon Hall by Mrs. George A. Peters, Miss Mary C. Tart and Mrs. Mary W. Taft, of Columbus, O.

Colonel M. J. O'Brien, who has been in Europe, will return this week, arriving on the steamship New York. He will open his cottage in Cedar avenue before the military tournament.

The Princess Frances Ainsworth, daughter of the Rumsen colony this week and has been with her friends in the Elberon settlement. She has been seen on horseback several times this week.

Governor Franklin Murphy, who had been absent from his Ocean avenue home during the greater part of the season, has been a prominent figure in the life of the resort since his return from a brief trip to Vermont. He will remain at Elberon until the resumption of state affairs calls him to Trenton.

Another prominent figure in New Jersey politics, who has been forced to absent himself from the shore here on account of business affairs, is former United States Senator James Smith, Jr. His appointment as receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company and active participation in the affairs of the democratic party in New York.
